

TERMS OF SERVICES

PRODUCT INFORMATION:

1. High Early Strength Cement (HESC): This type of cement is engineered to achieve higher strength at an early stage, making it suitable for projects that require quick setting and early load-bearing capabilities.
2. Sulphate Resistant Portland Cement (SRC): SRC is designed to withstand exposure to sulfate-rich environments, which are commonly found in soil or water, ensuring the durability of structures in such conditions.
3. Ordinary Portland Cement (OPC): OPC is the standard type of cement used in most general construction projects, offering reliable strength and versatility for various applications.

TERMS OF SERVICES

HEALTH AND SAFETY:

Given the importance of health and safety in the cement industry, the products include information about safety guidelines, handling precautions, and safety responsibilities for customers.

RETURNS AND REFUNDS:

At Al-Mabrooka Cement Company, we understand that occasionally circumstances may arise that require returns or refunds. We aim to ensure that our customers are satisfied with their cement products and that any issues are addressed promptly and fairly. Our returns and refunds policy is designed to be transparent and customer-centric, providing clear guidelines for the process. Please note that the specific details of our returns and refunds policy, including the return period and other conditions, may be subject to change. For the most up-to-date information and to understand the full terms and conditions, we encourage our customers to refer to our official returns and refunds policy or contact our customer support team directly. Our goal is to ensure a fair and satisfactory resolution for our customers while upholding our commitment to quality and customer service.

GOVERNING LAW AND DISPUTE RESOLUTION:

In the terms of services or agreements provided by Al-Mabrooka Cement Company, the governing law and dispute resolution clause outlines the legal framework that governs the relationship between the company and its customers or other stakeholders.

It is essential for both Al-Mabrooka Cement Company and its customers or stakeholders to understand and agree to the governing law and dispute resolution provisions. By defining these terms clearly, the company seeks to ensure a fair and efficient process for resolving any potential disagreements while promoting transparency and accountability in its business relationships.

As the specific clauses and details of the governing law and dispute resolution may vary based on the agreements or terms of services, individuals or parties involved should refer to the official documents provided by Al-Mabrooka Cement Company for the most accurate and up-to-date information.
